DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3,6,7,8,13,21 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Watkins et al (5165979).

Watkins teaches a three dimensional (i.e. containing projections) non-woven wherein polypropylene fibers of 1 micron to 100 microns are disclosed. Refer to column1, lines 51-64, column 2, lines 26-50 and column 4, lines 36-38.

3. Claims 1-3,6,7,8,13,17,21,23,25-27,30,31,32,44 and 46 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Daponte (4863779).

Daponte teaches a three dimensional (i.e. containing projections) non-woven wherein polypropylene fibers having a diameter of less than 200 microns, preferably .5 to 50 microns are used. The non woven can be attached to another woven layer as recited in instant claim 25. Claim 25 is interpreted by the examiner as being a composite formed of two networks, one being wovens, knits or braids as in lines 4 and 5 and a second one being of non wovens as recited in line 7, both networks being formed of fibers of less than 100 microns. Refer to figure 2A showing projections 16a and 20a along with column 3 line 8 through column 4, line 61, column 5, lines 48-60 (for the other woven layer in claim 25 as specified above), column 7, lines 42-65 column 16, lines 29-42, and column 20, lines 58-66.

4. Claims 1-8,10,12,13,21,23 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Englebert et al (4741941).

Englebert et al teaches a fibrous network formed of the recited fibers having a size of 1 to 100 microns. The three dimensional network can have truncated cones (figure 3 and 10) of height .3mm to 25mm. Refer to column 2, lines 46-60, column 4, line 62 through column 5, line 2 and column 6, lines 2-9,40-44.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-8,12,15,21 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Kim et al (5731062).

Kin et al discloses a fiber network formed of poly ethylene terephthalate (PET) fibers of a diameter of at least about .1mm (100 microns). The examiner deems this appears to overlap the applicant's range of less than one 100 microns with sufficient specificity that a 102 rejection would be appropriate. A prima facie case of obviousness also exists if the ranges overlap and it would have been obvious to use smaller sized fibers in order to form a softer three dimensional network. See column 2, lines 63-65 in Daponte 4863779, as a teaching reference to the fact that it is known to use the smaller fibers in order to form a softer, cloth like material therefrom.

7. Claims 4,5,9-12,14-16,18-20,22,24,28,29,33-43,45 and 47 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Daponte in view of Kim et al.

Daponte teaches the invention substantially as recited except for the use of PET for the fibers and the size of the projections.

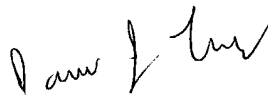

Kim et al teaches to use PET fibers and that the size of the fibers and projections can be chosen to give the desired cushioning properties for a specific application. Refer to column 5 lines 41-66.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to the primary reference to use PET fibers of the size Recited and to form the projections of what ever shape and/or size is desired in order to conform the article to its desired application motivated by the fact the Kim et al teaches that these features can be chosen to give desired cushioning properties to the article.
